

Writing:

Which of the following is/are strong thesis statements? For any that you think are not, write one sentence explaining why.

Qin Shihuangdi was a great leader.

The Persian style of government was effective because it struck a balance between central control and autonomy.

The beginning of agriculture led to changes in social structure, economic activities, and technology.

Legalism was an immoral, selfish philosophy.